

Preventive care

Getting and staying healthy is important. That's why most health plans include coverage for eligible preventive care services at no additional cost, when received from a doctor who participates in your plan's network.

*Plans may vary and not all preventive care services are covered. See your plan materials for costs and a complete list of covered preventive care services. Not all preventive care services are covered and different plans may cover different things. For example, immunizations for travel are usually not covered. See your plan materials for a complete list of covered preventive care services.
